The Ceramic Diffusers Manufacturing process

The following is a detailed description of our production process, which makes our essential oil diffuser stand out with the element of ceramic, pottery and terracotta

1

Design of Diffusers

We design the sketch of the aroma diffuser, perfect the internal structure design and make the mold drawing. After analyzing the 3D drawing carefully, we only make the best essential oil diffuser and do not offer substandard products.

2

Material Selection of Ceramic

The clay embryo is made of high-grade raw materials to ensure the highest whiteness of the clay, and the translucency of the ceramic, and The scientific formulation of the clay meets the process requirements for product molding and high temperature firing.

3

The Shapping Process of Ceramic

Making plaster molds to shape the clay, each step of modeling to rolling, grouting, finishing the clay, washing, drying, and plain firing must be carefully handled and strictly controlled.

4

Carving of Ceramic

The staffs use specialized tools to hand-carves complex patterns and textures on the ceramic surface according to the design, only simple drawings can be engraved by the equipment.

5

Firing of Ceramic

High temperature firing of 900-1400°C. Porcelain is fired twice, called secondary firing, and the ideal product after high-temperature firing, the ceramic is not deformed and does not crack

6

The Final Step

Assemble the ceramic aroma diffuser according to the SOP and ship to you efficiently

Problems with my order? Things you Need to Know

To save you from troubles, here are a few facts you need to know about our diffuser supplies.

Do you offer free shipping of wholesale ceramic diffuser?

Unfortunately, no. You'll have to pay a small shipping payment for your order of ceramic diffuser

What do I do if my order is postponed?

If you find the order delay over a week, please get in touch with our customer service for further support. We will ensure to resolve your issue right away, that your problem is solved immediately. Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, please allow minimal delays for order processing and shipping.

Are you able to replace goods that were damaged during shipping?

While we make sure that all orders are top-notch and secure, accidents do happen. When they do, please get in touch with our customer service for further assistance

How long is it going to take me to get the ceramic diffuser I ordered?

If your order is not customized, it usually takes 45-50 days for delivery. Many ceramics need to be hand carved and the production capacity is lower than plastic products, custom ceramic diffuser may take about 60 days because we need time to make molds and trial samples to ensure to provide the products you are satisfied with.

Why Diffusero Ceramic Aroma Diffuser?

We choose the top-quality clay embryo to carve the ceramic, then fire it twice by high temperature of 900-1400°C, the ceramic is not deformed and does not crack after high-temperature firing, High-temperature firing porcelain is the art of fire, Good or bad control of the fire when firing can make the product may have various defects or even scrap.

How to clean my ceramic aroma diffuser?

We recommend that you clean your diffuser frequently. Fill the tap water into the diffuser below the maximum water level. Put few drops of white vinegar to remove the residual oil stains of ceramic diffuser.

There is no mist coming out of my ceramic diffuser

Make sure it is plugged in, if it is indeed connected but you can't see the mist and light, please confirm if your outlet has power.

There could be residual oil stains blocking your ceramic diffusr so the diffuser can't spray the mist, please clean your diffuser right

Turn on the ceramic aroma diffuser and let it work for 3-5 minutes, so that the vinegar mixture thoroughly cleans the entire diffuser, then dry the ceramic diffuser with a dry cloth, rinse it again with tap water, and pour it out.

Last time, I bought some wholesale essential oil diffusers for sale from Diffusero. I am impressed with their prompt service and nice attitude towards their clients.

They were very friendly and even gave me some great sales advice and helped me make posters, which saved me a lot of time and effort! Thanks a lot for that!
